

MALHAAR AT THE INDIAN SCHOOL, 22 July, 2010

Malhaar, The Indian School's annual interschool competition, which celebrates the fine arts, was privileged to have Padma Vibhushan Dr. Sonal Mansingh, famed classical dancer as Chief Guest, with enthusiastic participation of 18 leading Delhi schools. The Indian School having adopted the Silk Route as the school-theme of the year, Malhaar too embodied the same. Thus talent in music, dance art and computer animation from across the Delhi schools' map vigorously contested to claim a spot on the route as it were!

Each discipline and entry was adjudged by distinguished artists of eminence who were impressed by the very superior standards of performance.

Four venues in the school were abuzz with activity and anticipation was in the air when at the stroke of noon, all participant schools reassembled with bated breath in the school auditorium to hear the results.

Overall, The Indian School stood first at Malhaar, 2010. However, being host school, it never competes for the rolling trophy at Malhaar. The winners therefore are:
